

Arthur “Buster” Burt

Driver/Official

Arthur ‘Buster’ Burt’s 47-year association with auto racing has taken him from Oxford Plains Speedway’s half-mile dirt track in May 1950 to the high-banks of Daytona International Speedway in 1959 to working for a major NASCAR team – Roush Racing. Buster’s racing career began in Maine, competing at Oxford, Beech Ridge Speedway and Unity Raceway. When the Air Force transferred him to Florida, he raced at tracks all over the state. Buster raced on the old Daytona Beach course and qualified for the Daytona 200 when the speedway opened in 1959. He worked for Roush Racing hauling the Mark Martin show car to appearances all over the eastern part of the country. Buster helped organize the Maine Legend Car touring series, serving as its first racing director and technical inspector. Buster Burt and wife Zoe Ann spend their summers in Maine and their winters in Florida.
